

SIT PRAVESH-2022

(A bridge course for 1st Semester B.Tech. students)

Silicon Institute of Technology is pleased to announce the commencement of bridge classes popularly known as SIT-PRAVESH, for the incoming batch of students (2022- 2023 B.Tech. admissions batch). The course will be delivered in an online mode and it should enable the students to become conversant with the basic terminologies & concepts related to Engineering courses. The course contents have been curated to include pre-engineering courses which will help the students transition in a seamless manner to professional education. This course can be attended by all the students taking provisional admission at Silicon Institute of Technology.

Students keen to pursue their B.Tech. Program in Silicon are advised to register at <https://erp.silicon.ac.in/onlineadmission/register.php> or visit the Institute in person for further details.
